From the President

Kingsley has had a truly remarkable year with outstanding speakers and high attendance at programs. Everyone has said that they thought it was sensational. The Program Committee is working on next year's speakers and publishing materials in a new format that includes more images (what else for an art club?) in print and online. Look forward to your membership renewal forms in July.

The annual Merit Awards were held in the Crocker with a reception for the students and their teachers. The Merit Awards Committee of Kat Crow and Pam Saltenberger decided to try something new and bring the students into the Museum for tours and a look at what is current there. I understand it was a great success and all the food was eaten – youth, you know...

Meanwhile, the High School Art Show under Marge Dobrowolski's leadership is coming together to be shown this summer in the Crocker Education area. Our dedicated Elementary School docents led by Barbara Johnson continue their monthly class visit and art studio day plus bringing their students to the Crocker on May 18th. The students will see many of the works they have studied.

The Nominating Committee is still working to fill positions in the offices and committees for next year. It is fun to work with bright and capable people who enjoy art. Who could ask for anything more? Call me if you will serve. 916-961-4654 — Nancy Lawrence

LUNCH & LOOK: FORBIDDEN FRUIT

Meissen China can make us all think of the original Kingsley ladies in their parlors sipping tea from lovely cups and imbibing pictures of the tombs and pyramids of Egypt.

The emphasis here has changed; Meissen has updated and commissioned new work. Visit both the wonderful Gilmeister Collection of Meissen in the historic building of the Crocker and wonder at the whimsical, naughty, and beautiful figures in Forbidden Fruit [right].

Join us at the Crocker at 11:00 on May 17th. Call 916-961-4654 to reserve a seat with all of us in the Museum Café. We will tour and then visit at lunch. Each can have what she or he wants and we will have a wonderful time. Please come!
